

Wall Of Unreality

First time I saw you was on a day, we can't find in this era.
In a non existing hour, I caressed your face in my thoughts.
It was like underwater breathing.

You said: "Live the moment remember it can change..."
You raised a forgotten part of my sensations.
It was like liquid sunlight.
It was like a mute clamour.
It was like burning ice.

Your mind was stronger than our affection - for eternity
Damn, you returned on the path, you leaved before fear
And now I find myself behind this wall of unreality

A last smile as a limit between strength and wingless pain.
It's raining and her tears mingle with the tears of heaven.
It was like liquid sunlight.
It was like a mute clamour.
It was like burning ice.

Your mind was stronger than our affection - for eternity
Damn, you returned on the path, you leaved before fear
And now I find myself behind this wall of unreality

It's cold and I write your name on the frozen window.
I ask myself what are you doing now?
It's cold and I write your name on the frozen window.
I ask myself is it underwater breathing?
I ask myself what are you doing right now?

Your mind was stronger than our affection - for eternity
Damn, you returned on the path, you leaved before fear
And now I find myself behind this wall of unreality

Your mind was stronger than our affection - for eternity
Damn, you returned on the path, you leaved before fear
And now I find myself behind this wall of unreality

Your mind was stronger than our affection - for eternity, for eternity
For eternity
Your mind was stronger than our affection - for eternity, for eternity